Title: Mysterious Mistas

Author: Adventure Tours

---

Ahhh... Mistas!

Stay at the Mistas
Regsit, the famed 5-Star Resort where, "There's Always Room for Dinner."

A once thriving riverfront town on the Gallowine River, Mistas has seen better days. Its once spacious buildings, beautifully maintained wide paved streets and open green areas now look as though some very large and untidy creature, perhaps a Dragon, had quite recently suffered a series of disappointing bowel movements in the vicinity.

The current population mostly consists of Juka, deranged Chaos Dragoons mounted on resentful swampies, and Gargoyle expatriates.

TO GET TO MISTAS
Take the Ilshenar Justice Moongate. Follow the road South.

The road will turn West, go through a mountain pass, and lead to a bridge. Do Not cross the bridge.

Head North. Mistas is just ahead.

Along the bridge into Mistas, you will pass another bridge intersecting from the West. That bridge leads to the Mistas Regsit.

You entered Mistas from the South. If you continue North, going straight through the city, you will come to another bridge on the North side.
This bridge will lead you to the lair of the rare Serpentine Dragon and the Centaur.

The short North Bridge leads to a mountain pass that leads to a tunnel.

The tunnel is safe (unless you have negative karma, then be sure to bring along some fairy repellent.)

Follow the tunnel around to the first cavern, home of the Serpentine Dragon and the Centaur. They will not attack unless provoked.

By the way, if you find the book in the Tarot Room underneath the Library there, and understand it, I'd like to know what the "tuning fork" quest is all about.
